

If you have ever been to Geek-Rant, this site may seem familiar to you. Actually, it's nearly a duplicate of it's sister site. The difference is, unlike Geek-Rant, this site is not aimed at ranting and raving about topics that get under my skin from time to time.

It's more about the more pleasant things. I may talk about a new idea I have, a new game I've played, hell maybe even a new recipe I tried. This may be for you, it may not. Either way, I will do my best to keep it entertaining!